

Florida Appellate Practice and Advocacy, 6th Edition

By Raymond T. Elligett, Jr. and Judge John M. Scheb

The Office for Conferences and Events at Stetson University College of Law publishes "Florida Appellate Practice and Advocacy," now in its Sixth Edition, by Raymond T. Elligett, Jr. & John M. Scheb. The book has been used in the Florida Appellate Practice "Successful Appellate Advocacy" workshop, to teach appellate advocacy at Stetson and Nova Southeastern, and by private and government practitioners.

The book has chapters on appellate jurisdiction, preservation of issues, the mechanics of appeals and original proceedings, motion and bond practice, brief writing, oral argument, criminal appeals, professional responsibility, dispositions, and more. The text emphasizes Florida state court decisions, and includes discussions of federal practice. The Sixth Edition is regularly updated, with updates available at www.law.stetson.edu/conferences/homepages.
