OBJECTIVES

The Master’s degree (M2*) in International Economic Law (MINTEC) aims at giving students a thorough knowledge of international economic legal issues.

The programme focuses mainly on the study of the World Trade Organisation, of the European Union in an economic perspective and of international economic development. The MINTEC also aims at providing students with some basic knowledge of international law, contracts and markets regulations. The syllabus also aims at giving international students the basics in French legal methodology and in French as a foreign language.

The M2 INTEC is composed of two semesters of mandatory courses.

Two tracks are available: the Research track and the Professional track.

- Students opting for the Research track must write a dissertation. When the programme is successfully completed, students who have chosen this track may apply for a PhD.
- Students opting for the Professional track must do an internship (minimum 3 months) and write a report.

According to the French grading system, the master’s degree is a national diploma recognised in the European Union countries and which is equivalent to a Legum Magister (LL.M.).

* In the French system, the master program is divided into two years: Master 1 (first-year of Master) and Master 2 (second-year of Master). It is possible to apply either for Master 1 or Master 2.

PROFESSIONAL AND ACADEMIC OPPORTUNITIES

Students that obtain the M2 INTEC have several legal job opportunities, and especially those in relation with international economic law. The programme provides them with the skills needed to hold positions in law firms, companies but also in public services, and international or European institutions.

Students opting for the Research Track can pursue academic research.

ADMISSION

A four-year degree in law is required, equivalent to 240 ECTS (European credits) and preferably specialised in international and European legal issues, but not exclusively.

Other qualifications and area of study may be considered by the Admission Committee.

A first professional experience in the field of economics, law or management is highly appreciated.

Students must have an adequate command of the English language to enrol. An applicant’s English proficiency level may be demonstrated by means of score reports of recognized exams, tests or certificates (equivalent to B2 level of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages) or by any relevant means (study experience in a program taught in English...).

SELECTION

The admission committee will assess your application based on academic results, English proficiency, personal experiences (international and/or professional) and motivation.

We will let you know whether or not you have been admitted in June.

TUITION FEES

The tuition fees are 3000 €, without regard to nationality, including a study trip to Bruxelles.
APPLICATION

All the candidates have to submit a paper application. The application form is available online. According to your country of residence, you may have to comply with additional procedures. Please get in touch with the Campus France office in your home country or check at: www.campusfrance.org
