

STETSON LAW

Outstanding Financial Obligations

The College of Law will withhold diplomas, certificates, and transcripts, will withhold registration for additional semesters, and may withdraw students from current courses, until all financial obligations are met or until the student or graduate has entered into an approved payment plan with the College of Law. If a diploma, certificate, transcript, or registration is withheld because of an unpaid bill, a student or graduate will be required to use a certified check, money order, credit card, or cash to release these documents.

Cross-references: Refund of Tuition and Fees, Student Accounts and Installment Payment Plans, Credit Card Acceptance: Frequently Asked Questions.

Administrative policy approved January 27, 2003; revised February 21, 2005, June 27, 2011.