The Stetson University Vocal Camp will be offered this summer on the beautiful campus of Stetson University in DeLand, Fla. The five-day camp is open to singers who have completed 9th grade through 12th grade. Instruction will focus on the core fundamentals of singing including private voice lessons and opportunities to perform in opera theatre scenes, musical theatre scenes, chamber vocal ensembles and a large choir. There will be a variety of music courses to select from including a workshop focusing on the audition process for undergraduate institutions. There will be opportunities to perform solos and work with other talented singers in chamber ensembles. The lessons, classes and rehearsals are taught by music faculty members from the Stetson University School of Music in the voice and choral area.

Tuition for the camp is $450, including room, board, three meals per day for the duration of the camp, private voice lessons, choral music and a camp T-shirt. Students living in the area may commute with the camp director’s approval and pay a reduced fee of $375, which includes lunch and dinner, private voice lessons, choral music and a camp T-shirt. Participants will be housed in Stetson University residence halls, eat in the cafeteria and have access to the campus recreational facilities. Counselors will stay in the residence halls with campers. The students are supervised at all times.
