SUGGESTED MENTORING ACTIVITIES

- Discuss short term and long term faculty development goals, career goals and professional interests
- Discuss preparation for tenure, promotion and career advancement
- Explore professional development opportunities available to new faculty
- Attend faculty development and other professional development programs offered on/off campus
- Share experiences on time management, stress management, and balancing workload effectively
- Address special needs, concerns, or questions and help in troubleshooting difficult situations
- Share information on academic and student support services on campus
- Discuss strategies for handling student issues such as advising, motivating, counseling needs, and academic dishonesty
- Discuss effective teaching and learning strategies, course development and curricular issues
- Share information on teaching and learning resources useful to new faculty
- Explore research and sponsored funding opportunities to support teaching and scholarly activities
- Explore strategies to manage and complete writing and creative projects
- Discuss academic policies and guidelines, and university governance structure
- Navigate campus and organizational culture
- Attend campus events such as cultural programs and sporting events