The School of Business Administration at Stetson University seeks candidates for a full-time, tenure-track, 9-month position in Entrepreneurship at the rank of Associate or Full Professor to serve as the Joseph C. Prince Entrepreneurship Program leader within the Department of Management. This teacher-scholar will be part of a successful AACSB International accredited program and is expected to contribute in the creation and delivery of exciting new initiatives at both the undergraduate and graduate (MBA, EMBA) levels.

QUALIFICATIONS:
The ideal candidate will possess: a Ph.D. or D.B.A. in management, or related business field from an AACSB-accredited program; Distinguished record in teaching, scholarship, and professional involvement sufficient to be qualified as Scholarly Academic under AACSB guidelines; Demonstrated ability to create, nurture, and expand programs within the entrepreneurship discipline including academic programs and activities of an entrepreneurship center; An entrepreneurial mindset focusing on the future of business education and collaborative development of opportunities in the area of business and social entrepreneurship both within the business school and across the University in an inter-disciplinary context; Substantive history of leadership/management experience; Strong commitment to interdisciplinary education and research; and Proven ability to provide guidance for research and teaching activities within the entrepreneurship field.

RESPONSIBILITIES:
The teaching load is three (3) courses per semester at the graduate and/or undergraduate level. The School of Business Administration currently offers an entrepreneurship minor open to all undergraduate majors. In addition to teaching within this Program, this faculty member will be responsible for leading the faculty team in fostering the development of innovative interdisciplinary courses and outreach initiatives. He or she will also teach within the related fields of Strategy and/or Leadership/Organization Behavior at the graduate and undergraduate levels, along with other discipline-specific courses as needed. Scholarly activity leading to publication in peer-reviewed journals and service to the Institute, the School of Business Administration, the University, and the profession are required. Engagement in multidisciplinary collaborations with other faculty is anticipated.

Candidates should demonstrate a passion for the highest quality of teaching, combined with the ability to produce rigorous peer-reviewed academic scholarship. For more information on our expectations in teaching and scholarship, our tenure policies, and our support for faculty development, please see the Office of the Provost and Academic Affairs website: http://www.stetson.edu/administration/provost/index.php

THE DEPARTMENT:
The largest of five academic departments in the School of Business Administration, the Department of Management (http://stetson.edu/business/management/) houses programs and/or majors in business ethics, entrepreneurship, family enterprise, management, and business administration. The department welcomes synergy across the multiple fields in a project-based, hands-on academic program with an excellent track record. The Department also houses the Joseph C. Prince Entrepreneurship Program and the Family Enterprise Center.

THE SCHOOL OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION:
Stetson’s School of Business Administration (http://stetson.edu/business/) is one of only 35 private colleges and universities worldwide with AACSB accreditation at the undergraduate and graduate level in both business and accounting. Florida’s first business program, the School has been empowering students to lead in a complex, global business environment since 1897. With programs on campuses in DeLand and Gulfport, our satellite centers in Celebration and Tampa, as well as online, the School is positioned for continued growth in both its online and physical offerings.

The School of Business Administration offers a bachelor of business administration, a master of accountancy, a master of business administration, and an executive master of business administration and conducts joint degree programs with Stetson’s College of Law and with the University of Florida College of Pharmacy. Stetson offers several distinctive programs including the Joseph C. Prince Program in Entrepreneurship, the Roland and Sarah George Investments Institute, the Family Enterprise program, the summer Study Abroad Program in Innsbruck, Austria, and the emerging Center for Business Intelligence and Analytics. The School sponsors a chapter of Beta Gamma Sigma.

THE UNIVERSITY:
Founded in 1883, Stetson University (http://www.stetson.edu) is a private, selective university comprised of a rich array of liberal arts and professional academic programs. Collectively, Stetson’s faculty works with nearly 4000 students in undergraduate, graduate, and professional programs. The University's historic main campus, located in DeLand, enrolls more than 2,800 students in undergraduate programs in the College of Arts & Sciences, the School of Business Administration, and the School of Music. Stetson University College of Law, Florida’s first law school, moved from the main campus to Gulfport in 1945, and, with the addition of the Tampa Law Center, serves approximately 1,000 students working full-time or part-time toward J.D. or LL.M. degrees. Graduate programs offered at the main campus and at Stetson University Center in Celebration include Business, Accounting, Elementary Education – Education for Social Justice, Educational Leadership, Counseling, and Creative Writing. Florida’s oldest private institution of higher learning, Stetson has regularly been ranked among the best regional universities in the Southeast and was the first private college in Florida to be granted a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa.

Stetson University provides an inspiring education that engages students with rigorous academic and creative study grounded in liberal learning and promotes civic values of personal and social responsibility. Working closely with faculty and with one another, students cultivate abilities to explore issues deeply, think critically, reason empirically, speak persuasively, and connect ideas creatively. Firmly committed to inclusive excellence, our vibrant community of teacher-scholars nurtures the potential of individual students to lead lives of significance and prepares each to meet the challenges of shaping the future—locally, nationally, and globally.
