How to Write Strong Learning Objectives

What's the point?

SET LEARNING GOALS

Learning objectives provide a framework for what you expect to learn during the internship experience. They are most valuable when created with your site supervisor and Faculty Internship Course Instructor. They should be measurable and evaluated throughout your experience to ensure you are making progress towards your internship goals.

How do I start?

THINK AHEAD

This simple prompt will help you define your internship goals:

By the end of my internship, I will be able to...

What am I learning?

RELATE IT TO YOUR ACADEMICS

- Is this learning objective related to what I am learning in class?
- How will I apply what I have learned in class to my internship experience?

How does it impact my future?

CAREER PREPARATION

- What professional skills do I need to develop during this internship?
- How might this experience solidify or change my career goals?

Other tips?

USE YOUR RESOURCES

- Discuss your learning objectives with your internship site-supervisor
- Course syllabi provide great examples of solid learning objectives
- Start each learning objective with an action verb
- Ask faculty and the CaPD team for advice!
