

STETSON UNIVERSITY

COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

POSITION: Adjunct Instructor, Biology

The Department of Biology seeks an individual who can teach one undergraduate course on a part-time basis in the fall 2026 semester.

QUALIFICATIONS:

A Ph.D. in a biological science is preferred but candidates with a master's degree in the field or are ABD will be considered. Evidence of strong teaching skills is required and candidates with expertise in teaching introductory biology for science majors are particularly encouraged to apply. Applicants must already be authorized to work in the U.S.

RESPONSIBILITIES:

This new colleague will teach one face-to-face lecture section of an Introductory Biology course. This course will either focus on cells and genetics (BIOL 141) or plant and animal physiology (BIOL 142) depending upon the candidate's expertise.

STIPEND: Stipend is competitive.

STARTING DATE: August 10, 2026

APPLICATION:

Applicants must send the following materials for consideration: 1) a cover letter that summarizes the candidate's qualifications and includes your philosophy of teaching in a liberal arts university, 2) a curriculum vitae, 3) an official transcript from the institution awarding the highest degree (a copy is acceptable at the time of application), and 4) three letters of recommendation, at least two of which include an evaluation of teaching ability. Candidates are encouraged to highlight skills and experiences that demonstrate a commitment to promoting inclusive academic environments and engaging across differences. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Application materials may be submitted electronically to biologydept@stetson.edu. Questions may be directed to Dr. Michael King at mking@stetson.edu.

THE DEPARTMENT:

The Biology Department consists of eleven tenured or tenure-track full-time faculty members, a lab coordinator, and a visiting assistant professor with areas of expertise in molecular biology, genetics, microbiology, environmental physiology, plant ecology, neurobiology, cancer biology, entomology, marine vertebrate biology, and ecology (<https://www.stetson.edu/other/academics/undergraduate/biology.php>). We emphasize small classes and investigative research in and out of the classroom. For examples of collaborative research with students across the University, see "Stetson Showcase" at <https://www.stetson.edu/other/research/showcase.php>.

THE COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES:

Stetson's College of Arts and Sciences (<https://www.stetson.edu/artsci/>) is the largest and most diverse of the University's colleges and schools; it includes the humanities, social sciences, natural sciences, education, and creative arts. With nineteen academic departments and nine interdisciplinary programs, the College is the liberal arts core of the University. A great strength of the College is its faculty of approximately 140 full-time teacher-scholars. The College offers 31 undergraduate majors and 34 undergraduate minors; seven graduate degrees are offered in Education, Counselor Education, and Creative Writing. Every undergraduate major requires a senior research project, allowing students the opportunity to design and carry out independent research under faculty mentorship. Our academic programs are shaped by the values of social justice and civic responsibility. All our courses and programs of study promote engaged learning, whereby students create connections between the classroom or lab and the local, regional, and global community. The academic programs of the College of Arts and Sciences prepare students to live significant lives, to interact with and positively affect the world around them.

THE UNIVERSITY:

Founded in 1883, Stetson University (<https://www.stetson.edu/>) is a private, selective university comprised of a rich array of liberal arts and professional academic programs. Collectively, Stetson's faculty works with nearly 3,800 students in undergraduate, graduate, and professional programs. The University's historic main campus, located in DeLand, enrolls approximately 2,400 students in undergraduate programs in the College of Arts and Sciences, the School of Business Administration, and the School of Music. Stetson University College of Law, Florida's first law school, moved from the main campus to Gulfport in 1945, and, with the addition of the Tampa Law Center, serves approximately 1,000 students working full-time or part-time toward J.D. or LL.M. degrees. Graduate programs based at the main campus in DeLand include Business, Accounting, Education, Counseling, and Creative Writing, with Educational Leadership cohorts also offered at the Gulfport campus. Florida's oldest private institution of higher learning, Stetson has regularly been ranked among the best regional universities in the Southeast and was the first private college in Florida to be granted a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa. Stetson University provides an inspiring education that engages students with rigorous academic and creative study grounded in liberal learning and promotes civic values of personal and social responsibility. Working closely with faculty and with one another, students cultivate abilities to explore issues deeply, think critically, reason empirically, speak persuasively, and connect ideas creatively. Firmly committed to inclusive excellence, our vibrant community of teacher-scholars nurtures the potential of individual students to lead lives of significance and prepares each to meet the challenges of shaping the future—locally, nationally, and globally.

THE COMMUNITY:

DeLand is a picturesque residential community of 38,000 located 20 miles west of Daytona Beach and 35 miles northeast of Orlando. The area offers extensive cultural as well as recreational activities.

Stetson University is an Equal Opportunity Employer that affirms inclusive environments and engaging across differences as a core value of academic excellence at Stetson University. We are committed to achieving equal access in education, employment, and participation through the recruitment and retention of outstanding faculty, staff, and students from a tapestry of diverse backgrounds, and to meaningful academic and intellectual transformation in curriculum, research and service. We are dedicated to actions and policies that foster a community in which individuals with various identities, cultures, backgrounds, and viewpoints work together to create opportunities for engagement through rewarding and fulfilling careers and personal experiences in an increasingly diverse society and a globalized world. We encourage qualified candidates across all backgrounds and identities to apply for employment, including members of historically underrepresented groups. Stetson University is an EEO, ADA, ADEA, and GINA employer.
