2023-2024 Annual Report

The mission of the Department of Counselor Education is to educate counseling students including those from diverse academic, geographic, religious/spiritual, ethnic, and cultural backgrounds, preparing them to accept and demonstrate their professional counseling responsibilities with distinction. Students learn to behave ethically, become aware of their personal strengths and resiliency, as well as their professional counseling responsibilities in an effort to apply these skills and self-knowledge to a culturally diverse clientele.

The purpose of this annual report is to inform students, the public, and important community stakeholders about key findings of the program in line with our program mission statement and objectives.

In accordance with 2024 CACREP standards, Department of Counselor Education faculty conduct a developmental, systematic assessment of each student's progress throughout their program, including consideration of the student's academic performance, professional development, and personal development. The student's knowledge, interpersonal skills, and counseling skills are consistently evaluated to determine if the student is competently progressing, if remedial work is necessary, or if a student should be withdrawn from the program. Faculty members address specific concerns related to individual students at each faculty meeting and adhere to the guidelines for reviewing student competency when decisions indicate a need for student remediation or withdrawal.

The Department of Counselor Education has adopted the Counselor Preparation Comprehensive Examination (CPCE) as one of its graduation requirements. The CPCE is required of all degree-seeking students. It is designed as a summative evaluation that measures the pertinent and professional relevant knowledge students have obtained during their counselor preparation program at Stetson University. The CPCE reflects the eight core curriculum areas approved by the Council for the Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP). Students sit for the CPCE when the majority of their coursework is completed toward the end of Practicum.
