Curbing the Global Fin Trade: 2019 Laws Banning the Sale of Shark Fins

Rachel Ollis
Emory University School of Law
J.D. Candidate 2021

Shark Finning v. Shark Fin Trade

Shark Finning

- The removal of a shark's fins at sea, often while the animal is still alive, and discarding the finned animal at sea
- Allowed to bring a shark to shore and cut off its fins to sell

Shark Fin Trade and What Laws are Trying to do:

- Prevent People From Selling Shark Fins
- Tries to curb the global shark fin trade

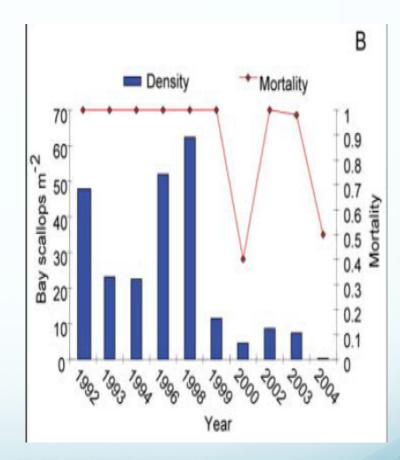

Importance of Sharks

• Ecological Standpoint:

- Apex Predators
- Regulate the Ocean

Economic Standpoint

- Shark Eco-Tourism
- Harm to Local Economies

Canada

• Existing Laws:

1994 Canada Made Shark Finning Illegal

New Laws:

- In 2019 Canada made it illegal to import or export shark fins
- Regulated under Fisheries and Oceans Department

• Why the Change?

Awareness credited to Robert Stewart

United States

• Existing:

- Prohibits Shark Finning.
- Certain States Have Banned Shark Fin Sales (California)
 - Chinatown Neighborhood Association Case
- New Proposed Law: Prohibit Sale of Shark Fins
 - Under this new proposed law a person cannot sell a shark fin.
 - Under this new proposed law a person cannot bring a shark to the land and kill it to then sell the fins
 - Fine for this proposed new law is a civil penalty of $100,000 or the fair market value of the fins, whichever is greater

The National Ban

- Will a national ban help stop the killing?
- USA Role in Global Fin Trade
 - NRDC Report
 - Savannah, Port of L.A., Port of Oakland, Port of Honolulu, Seattle Airport, and Miami Airport
- Driving Sales Underground
- Role of Shark Meat

