

Stetson University College of Law
Classroom and Seminar Space

The College of Law’s two campuses have a number of classrooms, seminar rooms, and courtrooms. A chart of classroom seating capacity is set forth below at figure 40. The Gulfport campus has five courtrooms (Eleazer, Florin Roebig (FR), Sebring, 203, and H), five classrooms (Nemec Auditorium/A, D, Jacob Classroom/E, F, and G), and five seminar rooms (SC201, 202, Library 208, Library 209, and the Eleazer Hearing Room). The jury room for the Eleazer Courtroom may be used as a seminar room, but access is available only through the courtroom or hearing room. The Tampa Law Center has two courtrooms (the Wm. Reece Smith, Jr. Courtroom and a practice courtroom located on the second floor of the library), two classrooms (135 and 136), and nine seminar rooms (235, 236, and Library 1–7). The following figure shows—for each classroom, courtroom, and seminar room—the actual number of chairs and 80% of the number of chairs. When enrolling students in an upper--level class for a specific classroom, the Registrar’s Office generally uses the 80% figure to cap the enrollment in a class to maximize space for laptops and increase floor space.
