The Stetson University Double Reed Workshop is an intense, weeklong event focusing on the fundamental principles of double reed performance, including an emphasis on specialized classes in reed-making techniques.

1) Visit stetson.edu/music-workshop and complete the application form online.

2) A $100 non-refundable deposit must be made to hold your place for the workshop. Credit card payment is available online or mail a check made payable to Stetson University Double Reed Workshop.

Checks can be mailed to:
Stetson University School of Music
Double Reed Workshop
421 N. Woodland Blvd., Unit 8399
DeLand, FL 32723

3) The remaining balance of the tuition is due at registration.

Registration deadline: May 30, 2015

Tuition: $540 (includes room, board & T-shirt)
Commuter’s Tuition: $440 (includes lunches, dinners & T-shirt)
Reed-making kits must be purchased separately.

If a printed application is preferred, please contact:
Coordinator of Summer Music Camps
Claudia Gatewood
musiccamps@stetson.edu • (386) 822-8962
Tuition: $540 (includes room, board & T-shirt)
Commuter’s Tuition: $440 (includes lunches, dinners & T-shirt)
Reed-making kits must be purchased separately.

The Stetson University Double Reed Workshop is an intense, weeklong event focusing on the fundamental principles of double reed performance, including an emphasis on specialized classes in reed-making techniques. The workshop encompasses chamber music for double reed ensembles, master classes and performance classes. All participants play in the double reed band and chamber ensembles, and are eligible to audition for the Young Artists Recital.

Participants will be housed in the Stetson University residence halls, eat in the student cafeteria and have access to all campus recreational facilities. Counselors will stay in the residence hall with the participants. The students are supervised at all times.

If you have any questions, please contact:
Coordinator of Summer Music Camps
Claudia Gatewood
musiccamps@stetson.edu • (386) 822-8962