

BACHELOR OF ARTS IN World Languages & Cultures

PROGRAM OVERVIEW »

BACHELOR OF ARTS | MAJOR | MINOR

Stetson University offers one major in world languages and cultures with four possible concentrations with a core curriculum in linguistics and cultural studies. The world languages and cultures program also offers minors in Spanish, French, German and Russian.

Area Studies tracks: The three one-language concentrations will give you not only a thorough grasp of the linguistic complexity of the chosen language but also a functional understanding of its cultural diversity and global impact: French and Francophone studies, German studies and Hispanic studies.

Translator's track: We also offer a multi-language track completed with a senior research project in translation.

MAJOR PROGRAM TRACKS »

Track 1: Hispanic Studies

- Nine Spanish classes
- One core class
- Senior research project

Track 2: French and Francophone Studies

- Nine French classes and approved program classes
- One core class
- Senior research project

Track 3: German Studies

- Nine German classes and approved program classes
