JOSHUA FINKELSTEIN '22

Josh Finkelstein is graduating magna cum laude with a Bachelor of Business Administration in Accounting and Business Analytics.

Attending Stetson's School of Business Administration, Josh was able to learn from amazing professors and individuals, who challenged how he viewed the world and instilled in him a deep passion for accounting, analytics and business.

In the School of Business Administration, Josh was involved in the VITA program, volunteering as a tax preparer. He also served as a Rinker Student Assistant, facilitating accounting practice problems for students. Josh is the recipient of the 2022 BSF Theodore J. Surynt Merit Award for Business Systems Analysis, the 2021 Roger Swanger Legacy Award and the 2020 Business School Foundation George Putnam Memorial Accounting Scholarship. In addition, he is part of multiple honor societies, including Phi Eta Sigma, Beta Gamma Sigma, Omicron Delta Kappa and Beta Alpha Psi.

Josh was heavily involved with the Student Government Association and served as president from October 2020 to May 2021 before also serving as vice president from May 2021 to May 2022. His administration was monumental in creating student quality-of-life programs and improvements, as well as navigating the student body through the COVID-19 pandemic.

Further, Josh was involved with numerous organizations on campus, including the writing center, where he served as a tutor; Hillel, the Jewish student organization, as treasurer and later co-vice president; and the Student Support Foundation, a philanthropic student organization.

In the fall, Josh will be attending the University of Michigan's Ross School of Business to earn a Master of Accounting degree. He hopes to obtain his CPA license and begin a career in accounting.

Josh will remember the fond memories he made at Stetson, along with the friends, family and mentors who guided him throughout his four years. He is so grateful to all who have helped him grow and made his time here at Stetson special. Go Hatters!

KERRINGTON HELLER '22

Kerrington Heller is graduating with a Bachelor of Music Education.

Kerrington is originally from Ormond Beach, Florida, and decided to attend Stetson because of its prestigious music program. She served as a leader both in music and in other areas on campus. She was a member of the National Association for Music Education (Collegiate), serving on the social media team. Also, she served on the general School of Music social media team, creating graphics and announcements for upcoming events.

Kerrington is a member of Alpha Xi Delta and has held various officer positions during her membership, including Member Development vice president on the executive board. In 2021, she helped lead the chapter through COVID-19, coming up with innovative solutions to connect sisters both virtually and safely in person. Additionally, Kerrington is a member of Rho Lambda, the National Sorority Leadership Recognition Society.

Outside of Stetson, Kerrington often volunteers at local schools, including Beachside Elementary. Assisting in both music classrooms and general classrooms has proven rewarding to her, as helping students grow is her passion. Further, she has volunteered through her sorority, raising money for organizations such as The Neighborhood Center and Food Brings Hope.

After graduation, Kerrington is looking forward to having her own music classroom and sharing her love of music with her own students. She hopes to inspire future generations of musicians to follow their dreams and pursue their passions!

D'ANGELO BROWN '22

D'Angelo Brown is graduating with a Bachelor of Arts in Political Science and American Studies.

D'Angelo was born and raised in Orlando, Florida. He grew up loved and had all the necessities that any young man should have when striving to become the best version of himself.

Although his adolescence was full of joy, which mostly came from his involvement in sports, D'Angelo always had a thirst for knowledge, and to put himself in positions for its expansion. To help achieve this goal, he came to Stetson, where he is now known as a dedicated scholar, student leader and Bonner volunteer who accumulated more than 14,000 hours of community service in the DeLand community.

In addition to his commitment to community service, D'Angelo's double majors in Political Science and American Studies helped him learn the intricacies of the political process, its origins, the theories surrounding political thought, and the ability to carry out one's research where thinking and analyzing data are critical.

To help solidify his passion for politics, D'Angelo served as a student government senator, where he sought to voice the concerns of students and worked on projects to help improve campus life. He also became a WISE leader, where he was a knowledgeable guide and role model to incoming first-year students on campus.

D'Angelo plans to pursue a career in governmental affairs with a focus on legislation. This summer, he will be interning in Washington, D.C, at The Politics Company under Ken Christensen, the CEO, to assist in consulting, fundraising and formulating strategic messages for political campaigns. He then plans on getting his master's degree to help broaden his knowledge of politics in the D.C. area.

On this journey, he vows to keep Stetson close to his heart, as he credits much of what he learned about himself and his studies to the university. He is thankful for the many memories and friends he made along the way, and prays that everyone he had the pleasure of meeting continues and never gives up on the quest of finding their unique contribution to the world.

T. WAYNE BAILEY, PHD, PROFESSOR EMERITUS

T. Wayne Bailey, PhD, arrived at Stetson in 1963 and spent the next 53 years serving the university before retiring in 2016 and being named Professor Emeritus.

During that time, he helped to establish the Political Science Department, co-founded Stetson's Model United States Senate, directed Stetson's Washington Semester at American University and served on Stetson's Pre-Law Advisory Committee. In doing so, he helped to shape the careers of numerous scholars, including future politicians, college professors, government administrators and more.

Mostly, he helped young people from all walks of life find the confidence and conviction to lead, often even surprising themselves in the process. Gary Maris, PhD, former Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, once was quoted as saying: "Wayne's really telling mark is that he's concerned about all students. Every single student is important to Wayne. There was no student he would ever turn away."

At the same time, Bailey was a great leader himself, serving as a delegate to Democratic National Conventions and playing a key role in getting the Florida Clean Indoor Air Act passed to ban smoking in public places, among other efforts. Locally, he was vice chair of the Volusia County Charter and Study Commission that created the Volusia County Constitution. Also, he chaired the first two Charter Review Commissions and was a member of the commissions in 1995 and 2006.

In 2004, he became the first non-physician in the United States to receive the Discovery Health Channel Medical Honor. In 2011, he was named Volusia County Citizen of the Year.

Bailey graduated with a Bachelor of Arts degree with honors in political science from the University of Florida in 1954. He received a Master of Arts in political science and history from the Peabody College of Vanderbilt University in 1955, and earned his PhD in political science from the University of Florida in 1963 — the year he came to Stetson.

STETSON UNIVERSITY

Established in 1883, Stetson University is a private, selective, comprehensive university known for its rich array of liberal arts and professional academic programs that integrate learning with personal and social responsibility.

The university was founded by New York businessman Henry A. DeLand, and was named for John B. Stetson, a Philadelphia hat manufacturer and philanthropist who gave generously to the school.

For the Fall 2021 semester, total student enrollment was 4,288, including 2,884 undergraduate students, 425 graduate students and 979 students at Stetson University College of Law.

Stetson's historic campus is in DeLand and includes the College of Arts and Sciences, the School of Business Administration and the School of Music. Stetson University College of Law and Law Center are in the Tampa Bay area.

Stetson University carries significant distinction. Stetson is the first private university in Florida to be awarded a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, the nation's oldest and most prestigious undergraduate honor society. The university consistently earns high national rankings for academic excellence. Its commitment to community-engaged learning is reflected in the Bonner Program, endowed by the Bonner Foundation and one of only 21 such programs nationwide providing scholarships to undergraduate students who actively engage in service to others. The College of Law was the first law school in Florida.

Through the years, Stetson has continued to extend its reach — globally through the impact of students, alumni and faculty, as well as through sustained physical growth, which is evident in the 2016 opening of the Marshall & Vera Lea Rinker Welcome Center and the current construction of the Cici & Hyatt Brown Hall for Health & Innovation.

THE PRESIDENTIAL CHAIN OF OFFICE

The President's Chain of Office, worn at all official academic occasions, was first used by Stetson's sixth president, John E. Johns, PhD. The original medallion is the university seal embraced by a wreath of laurel.

During the inauguration of Christopher F. Roellke, PhD, the university's 10th president, the Board of Trustees presented a new Chain of Office, honoring the names of the presidents of the institution. At the bottom of the Chain is a banner that bears the inscription President, below which sits the official Presidential Medallion, a round medal with the Seal of the University.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

The traditional pageantry of an academic procession is one of the impressive spectacles of our time. The array of handsome gowns and vividly colored hoods worn by the faculty and administration are the symbols of scholarly attainment.

MACE

Maces were originally war instruments, but from the 13th century have been carried by the sergeant-at-arms of educational entities. The mace symbolizes the dignity and authority of the President and the Board of Trustees.

The Stetson University mace, designed by Episcopalian Canon Edward Nason West of the Cathedral Church of St. John the Divine, New York, was presented to President J. Ollie Edmunds in 1956.

GONFALONS

Gonfalons are thought to have originated in western Europe during the Middle Ages, when such banners displayed the personal coat of arms of a nobleman and were used as war flags hung from a horizontal bar and carried on a staff or suspended from a knight's lance. As early as the 12th century, they were commonly used at state and religious ceremonies. Such pageantry finds a place today in the academic ceremonies of many colleges and universities.

Prominently featuring the university seal and the name of the respective college or school, the gonfalons are richly hued in Stetson's colors of green and white, accented by a luminous gold. The stately Elizabeth Hall cupola graces each gonfalon as a symbol of our heritage.

The bearers are outstanding members of the student body who have been selected by their respective dean for this honor.

THE FLAG

The university flag, designed by an alumna in 1976, features Stetson's official seal in the center, surrounded by the university's colors of green and white.

THE UNIVERSITY SEAL

The circular seal of Stetson University was first adopted between 1889 and 1891, around the time the name of the institution changed from DeLand College to John B. Stetson University. It first appeared on a university catalog in 1891. The drawing was by an artist-in-residence and approved by President John F. Forbes, Henry DeLand and John B. Stetson, as well as by the Board of Trustees. The Latin motto, “Pro Deo et Veritate,” is translated “For God and Truth.” The lamp, signifying the “Light of Truth,” rests on the “Book of Wisdom.”

HONORS PROGRAM

Founded in 1956, Stetson University's Honors Program is the oldest in the Southeast and one of the oldest in the nation. Its mission is to provide "enriched and intellectually stimulating learning experiences for inquisitive and motivated students." Honors Program graduates must complete a rigorous sequence of courses in general education, fulfill all requirements for a major (and often a second major or minor), write a personal credo, pass a comprehensive oral examination and maintain a minimum overall GPA of 3.0. The Honors Program has a long tradition of providing leaders to student government, campus media and service organizations.
