COMMENCEMENT SPEAKERS

Student speakers are nominated by faculty or their peers, with final selection by a faculty committee.

IZZY BARBATO '24

Isabel (Izzy) Barbato is graduating as a Vocal Performance major. A lover of diverse forms of music, Izzy enjoys singing Baroque repertoire, musical theatre, Classical opera, and is especially fond of the work of vocal music of 20th-century composers such as Kurt Weill and Leonard Bernstein.

Throughout her time at Stetson, Izzy has excelled both musically and academically. Recently, she won first place at the SERNATS vocal competition, as well as played leading roles in Stetson Opera Theatre's productions of Janáček's "The Cunning Little Vixen" and Strauss's "Die Fledermaus," and received the annual Stetson School of Music Presser Scholar Award. Also, she was chosen to represent Stetson as an Apprentice Artist with Opera Orlando and performed with the company in Puccini's Tosca in the stunning new Steinmetz Hall in downtown Orlando last fall. Izzy has remained on the Dean's List through her time at Stetson, and has served as the Stetson Homecoming Chair.

A member of Pi Kappa Lambda National Music Honor Society, Izzy holds a passion for leadership and education in the arts. She has been teaching voice since she was in high school, and has co-directed many Junior musicals. She spends her summers as an activity director at the Oregon Bach Festival, where she finds new musical inspiration each year.

Izzy is grateful to have led her undergraduate career at Stetson. She will tell you that her biggest achievement was her Junior Recital, in which she took an immersive, storylike approach, outlining the story of Eurydice from the Greek myth of "Orpheus in the Underworld." For this performance, she received the Maris Prize for Best Junior Recital during Stetson Showcase week. She is beyond thankful to the professors for the support and guidance they have shown her throughout her time on campus, and to her INCREDIBLE family and friends!

In her free time, Izzy enjoys reading and writing, spending quality time with her family and friends (usually somewhere outdoors), cooking all sorts of experimental dishes, and practicing yoga and meditation. In the fall, she will be attending the Yale School of Music to continue her studies and earn her master's degree.

EVAN JOHN COPELLO '24

Evan Copello is graduating from the Counselor Education Program with a Master of Science in Counselor Education with Advanced Studies. Evan previously earned a Master of Science in Psychological Science.

While completing his master's degree at Stetson, Evan started his PhD in Social Work at Baylor University and has finished his first year in that program. He is married to his lovely and supportive wife, Victoria Cordero, and they have two dogs, Bandit and Mudge; a cat named Alley; and a pet snake named Gary. Evan loves being outside, visiting his family in North Carolina and Florida, and spending time with his siblings, Andrew, Austin, Dylan, Jason, Hutton and Piper.

Evan is thankful for his many mentors along this journey, namely Stetson Professor Dr. Jesse Fox. He is also grateful to his mother, Lara, for her endless love and raising him to always work hard.

Evan plans to continue his doctoral education and is hoping to work at an R1 university as a researcher and professor in the future.

SADIE MCKAY JENSEN '24

A first-generation college student, Sadie Jensen is graduating with a double-major in Accounting and Finance, with a concentration in Corporate Finance, and minors in Applied Statistics, Business Systems and Analytics, and Environmental Studies.

In addition to her ambitious academic pursuits, Sadie is actively engaged on campus. She is a member of the Stetson Women's Rowing team and various honor societies, including Beta Gamma Sigma and Beta Alpha Psi. Also, Sadie is heavily involved with the Business Ethics Case Competition team, where she has served as captain for the past two years. She is an active participant in the DeLand community, as well, from volunteering to help local families with income taxes through the VITA program to serving in various capacities at her church.

Sadie completed professional internships at multiple companies during her time at Stetson and will be returning to one of these companies, Delta Air Lines, as a full-time financial analyst in June. She plans to begin her graduate education this fall, pursuing a Master of Accountancy and CPA licensure.

Sadie hopes to use her education to help to solve problems facing the modern business environment in innovative and sustainable ways.

KYLE DOUGLAS RIEDL '24

Kyle Riedl is graduating with a Master of Business Administration in Data Analytics. He also received a bachelor's degree in statistics from the University of Central Florida in 2020.

During his time at Stetson, Kyle spent time making connections with his professor and peers and building his professional career. He was awarded the Outstanding MBA Student and Top MBA Academic Performance Awards for his achievements. Kyle was also granted induction to Beta Gamma Sigma for his high academic achievements in the MBA program.

Kyle plans to further his education in the fields of Data Science, Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning. He also continues to seek new challenges and growth opportunities within his current role as a business intelligence consultant, where he is responsible for resource management forecasting and automation.

Kyle has a mission to seek out new opportunities and challenges in life, as his definition of success is continuance.

ALEXIS LEIGH TRAPP '23

Alexis Trapp, a graduating senior from the College of Arts and Sciences, Class of 2023, majored in Social Science and minored in Psychology. Throughout her time at Stetson, Alexis has been actively involved in various leadership roles and organizations. She served as a captain of the Student Ambassadors and an Assistant Coordinator for FOCUS Orientation, plus participated in the Patrick L. Smith Model United States Senate as the Coordinator.

Alexis's commitment on campus extends through her membership in other organizations, such as Omicron Delta Kappa, Psi Chi and Phi Alpha Delta.

Looking toward the future, Alexis is excited to attend Campbell University School of Law in Raleigh, North Carolina, this upcoming fall.

Today, Alexis celebrates this milestone surrounded by her family, friends and, most importantly, her nieces, Tatum and Blake. She thanks each of you for being here today and supporting the Class of 2024!

HONORARY DOCTORATE

SALLY IGO GILLESPIE

In keeping with the traditions of Stetson University, Sally has lived a life of significance. From her time at Stetson and her commitment to education to her unwavering service to the Volusia County community, Sally has embodied the ethos of our values and set the bar high as a global citizen.

Since graduating from Stetson with a Master of Arts in 1965, Sally has tirelessly sought to advance the interests of academic excellence. As a speech therapist and a high school English teacher, Sally was on the front line, ensuring tomorrow's leaders were equipped to be the best they could be. As a host and executive producer of several educational series broadcasted on television, Sally prioritized wellness.

Endeavoring to make a broader impact, Sally sought out challenging roles to be a voice for students outside the classroom. She served on the board of directors of educational television station WMFE (Orlando, Florida) from 1959 to 1968. She spent 12 years advocating for students as a trustee and board member for the Daytona Beach Community College and its foundation, where she raised awareness and resources for their benefit. Further, as President of the National Alumni Association at Stetson from 1986 to 1988, Sally challenged her fellow alums and cohorts to get involved.

Noting Sally's efforts, Stetson President Doug Lee, PhD, presented her with the Distinguished Service Award in 1988.

In 1997, Florida Gov. Lawton Chiles appointed Sally to the Florida Post-Secondary Education Planning Commission, where she was one of seven members responsible for providing a master plan for policy analysis and recommendations, including a master plan on post-secondary education, to the Florida Board of Education and the Florida Legislature. In addition, as an Advisory Board member for Stetson's College of Art and Sciences, Sally served with excellence.

Sally has spent her life supporting various worthy causes, including the Florida House in Washington, D.C.; the United Way; the American Heart Association; Mental Health Association of Central Florida; Meals on Wheels; and the Seaside Music Theatre.

However, her most significant impact has been right here in Volusia County. As cofounder of the New Smyrna Beach Resident's Coalition, now 900 members strong, Sally has tirelessly worked to raise awareness and mobilize support for issues ranging from environmental responsibility and sustainability to quality of life for intellectual debate.

In that role, Sally has distinguished herself as a catalyst for growth and positive change in the face of overdevelopment. In recognition of efforts that go back decades, New Smyrna Beach Mayor Russ Owen presented Sally the first-ever Key to the City last year, saying, "Her impact has truly helped influence and shape New Smyrna Beach."

In addition to her steadfast gift of service, Sally has made substantial financial contributions to various nonprofits, including Stetson. She recently granted Stetson a permanent conservation easement on her waterfront property to advance the interests of the environment, related academic programming and experiential learning for the next generation of Stetson leaders (including the College of Law) in honor of her late husband, William M. Gillespie, and herself.

Her faithful financial support of the university over the last 38 years, combined with her generous conservation easement, is a declaration of our shared belief in Stetson's mission to equip the best and brightest students for their own life of significance.

Sally and her husband, Ray Eddy, live in New Smyrna Beach.

STETSON UNIVERSITY

Established in 1883, Stetson University is a private, selective, comprehensive university known for its rich array of liberal arts and professional academic programs that integrate learning with personal and social responsibility.

The university was founded by New York businessman Henry A. DeLand, and was named for John B. Stetson, a Philadelphia hat manufacturer and philanthropist who gave generously to the school.

Stetson's historic campus is in DeLand and includes the College of Arts and Sciences, the School of Business Administration and the School of Music. Stetson University College of Law and Law Center are in the Tampa Bay area.

Stetson University carries significant distinction. Stetson is the first private university in Florida to be awarded a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, the nation's oldest and most prestigious undergraduate honor society. The university consistently earns high national rankings for academic excellence. Its commitment to community-engaged learning is reflected in the Bonner Program, endowed by the Bonner Foundation and one of only 21 such programs nationwide providing scholarships to undergraduate students who actively engage in service to others. The College of Law was the first law school in Florida.

Through the years, Stetson has continued to extend its reach—globally through the impact of students, alumni and faculty—as well as through sustained physical growth, which is evident in the 2023 opening of the Cici & Hyatt Brown Hall for Health & Innovation.

THE PRESIDENTIAL CHAIN OF OFFICE

The President's Chain of Office, worn at all official academic occasions, was first used by Stetson's sixth president, John E. Johns, PhD. The original medallion is the university seal embraced by a wreath of laurel.

During the inauguration of Christopher F. Roellke, PhD, the university's 10th president, the Board of Trustees presented a new Chain of Office, honoring the names of the presidents of the institution. At the bottom of the Chain is a banner that bears the inscription President, below which sits the official Presidential Medallion, a round medal with the Seal of the University.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

The traditional pageantry of an academic procession is one of the most impressive spectacles of our time. The array of handsome gowns and vividly colored hoods worn by the faculty and administration are the symbols of scholarly attainment.

THE UNIVERSITY SEAL

The circular seal of Stetson University was first adopted between 1889 and 1891, around the time the name of the institution changed from DeLand College to John B. Stetson University. It first appeared on a university catalog in 1891. The drawing was done by an artist-in-residence and approved by President John F. Forbes, PhD, Henry DeLand and John B. Stetson, as well as by the Board of Trustees. The Latin motto, "Pro Deo et Veritate," is translated "For God and Truth." The lamp, signifying the "Light of Truth," rests on the "Book of Wisdom."

MACE

Maces were originally war instruments, but from the 13th century have been carried by the sergeant-at-arms of educational entities. The mace symbolizes the dignity and authority of the President and the Board of Trustees.

The Stetson University mace, designed by Episcopalian Canon Edward Nason West of the Cathedral Church of St. John the Divine, New York, was presented to President J. Ollie Edmunds, PhD, in 1956.

THE FLAG

The university flag, designed by an alumna in 1976, features Stetson's official seal in the center, surrounded by the university's colors of green and white.

GONFALONS

Gonfalons are thought to have originated in western Europe during the Middle Ages, when such banners displayed the personal coat of arms of a nobleman and were used as war flags hung from a horizontal bar and carried on a staff or suspended from a knight's lance. As early as the 12th century, they were commonly used at state and religious ceremonies. Such pageantry finds a place today in the academic ceremonies of many colleges and universities.

Prominently featuring the university seal and the name of the respective college or school, the gonfalons are richly hued in Stetson's colors of green and white, accented by a luminous gold. The stately Elizabeth Hall cupola graces each gonfalon as a symbol of our heritage.

The bearers are outstanding members of the student body who have been selected by their respective dean for this honor.

HONORS PROGRAM

Founded in 1956, Stetson University's Honors Program is the oldest in the Southeast and one of the oldest in the nation. Its mission is to provide "enriched and intellectually stimulating learning experiences for inquisitive and motivated students." Honors Program graduates must complete a rigorous sequence of courses in general education, fulfill all requirements for a major (and often a second major or minor), write a personal credo, pass a comprehensive oral examination and maintain a minimum overall GPA of 3.0. The Honors Program has a long tradition of providing leaders to student government, campus media and service organizations.
