HONORARY DOCTORATE

BILL ROBERTS

Bill Roberts, a Florida native, resides in Tampa, where he has built a distinguished career spanning telecommunications, real estate, public policy and community leadership. He has been married to his wife, Beverly, for 40 years, and together they have raised three children.

After graduating from Stetson University, Bill began his career operating WJBS radio station in DeLand, where he also broadcasted numerous Stetson athletic events. He soon transitioned into the emerging cable television industry, launching a 40-year career defined by innovation and impact.

Bill was a pioneer in advancing local television over cable systems and an early adopter of satellite delivery for television distribution. He also contributed to the expansion of internet infrastructure, developing fiber optic-based businesses in the Midwest. Over his career, he helped create more than 50 community cable systems across Florida and the Southeast, including in St. Petersburg, suburban New Orleans and Charleston, South Carolina.

These systems were among the first to offer advanced services such as two-way video, remote banking and expanded channel capacity—helping drive the industry's growth. His work also supported important regulatory and operational improvements. In recognition of his contributions, Bill was inducted into the Cable TV Pioneers in 2005.

In recent years, Bill has focused on improving the Tampa Bay region, particularly in transportation planning. He represents Tampa International Airport on the Transportation Policy Organization and has received recognition from Hillsborough and Pasco counties for his leadership in regional initiatives.

Bill's commitment to community service is extensive. He is a past-president of the Rotary Club of Tampa Bay, serves on several community boards, and is active in commercial real estate as the owner of a brokerage firm. He also chaired a 10-year effort with Florida Realtors to reduce taxes on commercial rents and led the Government Affairs Committee for many years. In 2017, he received a Lifetime Achievement Award for his contributions to the industry.

Currently, Bill manages a Tampa-based group of companies focused on environmental sustainability, including water and soil remediation, wetlands mitigation, and a regenerative vegetable farm. These efforts utilize advanced technologies to improve natural resources for future generations.

Bill's connection to Stetson University has remained strong. He began his involvement with the Alumni Board in 1979 and served in multiple leadership roles, including president of the Stetson Alumni Association in 1992. He has hosted numerous alumni and student events and co-founded the ASSIST scholarship program for alumni families. He also supported the establishment of the first student chapter of Friends of the Everglades at Stetson and continues to be a dedicated advocate for Florida's finest private university.

STETSON UNIVERSITY

Established in 1883, Stetson University is a private, selective, comprehensive university known for its rich array of liberal arts and professional academic programs that integrate hands-on learning with personal and social responsibility.

The university was founded by New York businessman Henry A. DeLand, and was named for John B. Stetson, a Philadelphia hat manufacturer and philanthropist who gave generously to the school.

Stetson's historic campus is in DeLand and includes the College of Arts and Sciences, the School of Business Administration and the School of Music. Stetson University College of Law is located in Gulfport (Tampa Bay area).

Stetson University carries significant distinction. Stetson is the first private university in Florida to be awarded a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, the nation's oldest and most prestigious undergraduate honor society. The university consistently earns high national rankings for academic excellence, and in fall 2024 introduced Hatter Ready, an innovative approach to specialized learning that enhances student engagement through immersive experiences. The university's commitment to community-focused learning is reflected in the Bonner Program, making Stetson one of only about 60 colleges and universities nationwide to offer the program. Endowed by the Bonner Foundation, it provides scholarships to undergraduate students who actively participate in service to others. The College of Law was the first law school in Florida.

Through the years, Stetson has continued to extend its reach—globally through the impact of students, alumni and faculty—as well as through sustained physical growth, which is evident in the 2023 opening of the Cici & Hyatt Brown Hall for Health & Innovation. In addition, the historical reconstruction of Hulley Tower on campus was completed in February 2026, and a new residence building for students (Lynn Hall) was opened in January 2026. Under the current strategic plan of Moving Forward Together, the university's progress in advancing from “Florida gem to national treasure” offers great promise for the future.

THE PRESIDENTIAL CHAIN OF OFFICE

The President's Chain of Office, worn at all official academic occasions, was first used by Stetson's sixth president, John E. Johns, PhD. The original medallion is the university seal embraced by a wreath of laurel.

During the inauguration of Christopher F. Roellke, PhD, the university's 10th president, the Board of Trustees presented a new Chain of Office, honoring the names of the presidents of the institution. At the bottom of the Chain is a banner that bears the inscription President, below which sits the official Presidential Medallion, a round medal with the Seal of the University.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

The traditional pageantry of an academic procession is one of the most impressive spectacles of our time. The array of handsome gowns and vividly colored hoods worn by the faculty and administration are the symbols of scholarly attainment.

THE UNIVERSITY SEAL

The circular seal of Stetson University was first adopted between 1889 and 1891, around the time the name of the institution changed from DeLand College to John B. Stetson University. It first appeared on a university catalog in 1891. The drawing was done by an artist-in-residence and approved by President John F. Forbes, PhD, Henry DeLand and John B. Stetson, as well as by the Board of Trustees. The Latin motto, “Pro Deo et Veritate,” is translated “For God and Truth.” The lamp, signifying the “Light of Truth,” rests on the “Book of Wisdom.”

MACE

Maces were originally war instruments, but from the 13th century have been carried by the sergeant-at-arms of educational entities. The mace symbolizes the dignity and authority of the President and the Board of Trustees.

The Stetson University mace, designed by Episcopalian Canon Edward Nason West of the Cathedral Church of St. John the Divine, New York, was presented to President J. Ollie Edmunds, PhD, in 1956.

THE FLAG

The university flag, designed by an alumna in 1976, features Stetson’s official seal in the center, surrounded by the university’s colors of green and white.

GONFALONS

Gonfalons are thought to have originated in western Europe during the Middle Ages, when such banners displayed the personal coat of arms of a nobleman and were used as war flags hung from a horizontal bar and carried on a staff or suspended from a knight’s lance. As early as the 12th century, they were commonly used at state and religious ceremonies. Such pageantry finds a place today in the academic ceremonies of many colleges and universities.

Prominently featuring the university seal and the name of the respective college or school, the gonfalons are richly hued in Stetson’s colors of green and white, accented by a luminous gold. The stately Elizabeth Hall cupola graces each gonfalon as a symbol of our heritage.

The bearers are outstanding members of the student body who have been selected by their respective dean for this honor.
