

Community-Based Research Department Assessment

1. How many students within your department have completed community-based research (CBR) projects as part of their senior project requirements?
2. How many students have completed CBR projects as part of course requirements within your department?
3. How many students within your department have completed CBR projects independently of major requirements or coursework?
4. Which faculty within your department have facilitated community-based research projects?
5. How many courses in your department require the completion of a CBR project?
6. With which community partners has your department collaborated on CBR projects?
7. Describe what opportunities for expanding CBR department initiatives currently exist.
8. What barriers prevent you from incorporating more CBR projects into your departmental requirements and coursework?

9. What support could the Center for Community Engagement provide to alleviate challenges to creating CBR projects?
