

Guide to Academic Resources

Learn all about all academic resources found on campus at Stetson!

About Us

The Honor System Council is a panel of undergraduate students chosen to take special responsibility for implementing the Honor System at Stetson University. Council members are responsible for informing and educating the DeLand campus community about the purpose and provisions of the Honor System. The Council also serves as a peer hearing body that oversees cases regarding students alleged to have violated the University Honor Code.

If you're ever lost on a paper and need help, the Writing Center is always a great resource. Located on the ground floor in the library, the Writing Center helps students with brainstorming, proofreading, learning to cite, resumes, science reports, finding credible sources, and a variety of other things.

DuPont Ball library

Stetson's library has every resource a student may need! Of course they have books for every subject, but they also host the Writing Center, Academic Success, Ask a Librarian!, and the tutors and SPI's. Their website also allows students to access huge databases, journal lists, archives, research guides, and online books.

Ask a librarian is part of the Dupont Ball Library. It is where students in need of help with researching can consult the Dupont Ball Librarians for help. The Librarians can help students with navigating resources and electronic resources and databases, construct effective search strategies, and identify sources for their research and coursework.

Academic Advising through Academic Success

Stetson University employs a Faculty Advising model, assigning each student to a faculty member in their field of study. The Academic Success department's Advising Support Team provides additional advising and student support. The main objective is to empower students to shape their academic journeys by identifying their aspirations and the best paths to achieve their goals.

Personalized advising helps students explore course options and enhance their learning experiences within the Stetson environment. Academic Advising services are located in the Hollis Family Student Success Center on the second floor of the DuPont Ball Library.

Success coaches help students with time management and procrastination, reading and studying, note taking, test taking, test prep, managing test stress and anxiety, learning strategies to stay organized, improving memorization techniques, and collaborative learning. While any academic topic can be discussed in a session, some of the main areas of interest are:

- Time management and procrastination
- Reading, studying, and note-taking
- Classroom and test stress/anxiety
