

2021 VALUES DAY

BUILDING CULTURES OF EMPATHY AND RESPECT

Schedule

October 19, 2021 – 9:00 a.m. - 10:30 p.m.

Register for Values Day to receive Values Day Updates

The theme of Values Day this year is: Building Cultures of Empathy and Respect.

Please note that all in-person events have limited capacities and require masks at all times.

Values Day Signature Keynote

6:00 – 7:00 P.M.

\*Cultural Credit Opportunity

Keynote Address: Isabel Wilkerson

Christopher Roellke, Savannah-Jane Griffin, Joanne Harris-Duff, Isabel Wilkerson

Isabel Wilkerson, winner of the Pulitzer Prize and the National Humanities Medal, and author of the critically acclaimed, New York Times bestsellers The Warmth of Other Suns, and Caste: The Origins of Our Discontents, will be our 2021 Values Day Keynote Speaker. Isabel will be speaking about her book, Caste: The Origins of Our Discontents and the audience will have the opportunity to ask questions following her keynote address. Email your questions for Isabel to events@stetson.edu by Friday, October 15th. To learn more about our speaker and her book, please visit: <https://www.stetson.edu/other/values-day/2021keynotespeaker.php>.

Virtual Link

Values Day Full Schedule

9:00 – 9:50 A.M.

Outdoor Yoga

Religious and Spiritual Life and WELL Team

Take time out of your day to practice self-care and relaxation by also having a fun time with friends and getting in some exercise! A 50-minute yoga class with a short meditation at the end, for all levels. Bring your own mat if you have one, if not there will be some available for use.

Hulley Tower

10:00 – 11:00 A.M.

An Experiential Introduction to Tai Chi

Morris Sullivan

Tai chi (or more formally, taijiquan) is a traditional Chinese martial art practiced mainly for its significant health benefits. Performed by doing slow, flowing and meditative movements, tai chi has been shown to improve balance and both physical and mental wellbeing. In this one-hour workshop, participants will get a short course in some basics of tai chi. Stetson chaplain and founding sport director of the Florida Taijiquan Association will lead participants through loosening exercises, a qigong (energy-work) sequence and some foundations of taijiquan.

Hulley Tower

10:00 A.M. – 12:00 P.M.  *Cultural Credit Opportunity	Gillespie Museum  Karen Cole  The Gillespie Museum, the university’s earth science museum, houses one of the premier historic mineral collections in the southeast. Fall 2021 exhibits include Cindy Leung’s “On the Road,” 26 sculptures of porcelain, silk and tea which explore how language and material culture shape the artist’s hybrid identity; and “Meteorites: Rocks from Space,” a display of meteorites and tektites from the Historic Gillespie Collection. The grounds of the Rinker Environmental Learning Center, adjacent to the Gillespie Museum, feature outdoor teaching landscapes, the Volusia Sandhill Ecosystem, Hatter Harvest Organic Garden, and Stetson Beekeeping. Take a short eco-tour or sit for a while under the native Florida trees, getting to know your nonhuman neighbors.	Gillespie Museum
10:00 – 11:15 A.M.  *Cultural Credit Opportunity	Empathy and Art at the Library: Making Art Collages in the Library Courtyard  Hunter Murphy, Katie Baczeski, Chad Serhal  Would you like to create a collage for Values Day at the greatest place on Earth (the duPont-Ball Library)? Of course you would! Spots are limited so act now. During this interactive session, you will have the opportunity to create art on the themes of empathy, respect, and Stetson culture. Students will consider Stetson’s history and how lessons from the past can improve campus culture. Using old Stetson yearbooks and other recycled materials, participants will create collages with faculty from the Library and Creative Arts Department. All materials will be provided. Session will take place in the Library’s Nemec Courtyard.  *RSVP Required for this event	DuPont Ball Library, Nemec Courtyard
11:00 A.M. – 2:00 P.M.  *Cultural Credit Opportunity	Hand Art Center Exhibits  (un)Peopled: A Sense of Place  (un)Peopled examines how our relationship to places shifts under the conditions of a global pandemic. The exhibit presents four Florida-based photographers.  Oscar Bluemner: My Finest Design  My Finest Design incorporates architectural drawings and biographical information to describe Bluemner's early career as an architect. The exhibit then takes the ideas and architectural training that Bluemner underwent and asks the viewer to identify those characteristics in his finished paintings from his career as a painter.	Hand Art Center
12:00 - 2:00 P.M.  *Cultural Credit Opportunity	Global Citizenship Fair  The Global Citizenship Fair is a great opportunity to network and connect with many of Stetson University’s local and global community partners. The Global Citizenship Fair will feature internships, volunteer opportunities, and study abroad opportunities. Attendees will be able to receive Values Day swag and free Schmancy Ice Cream Pops! Partners that will be in attendance include: Stark Elementary School, United Way of Volusia/Flagler Counties, Children’s Home Society, Advent Health DeLand, Volusia County Environmental Management, Special Olympics of Florida, Black Homeschoolers of Florida, Lacey Family Spring Hill Boys &amp; Girls Club and many more!	Stetson Green

12:00 - 1:15 P.M.  *Cultural Credit Opportunity 	2021-2022 Stetson R.E.A.D. Launch  Rajni Shankar-Brown  Students, faculty, staff, and community members are invited to participate in a community lunch and to learn more about the Stetson R.E.A.D. (Reflect, Engage, and Affirm Diversity) program. The 2021 Values Day Keynote Speaker Isabel Wilkerson's book Caste: The Origins of Our Discontents was selected as the feature text for the 2021-2022 Stetson R.E.A.D. program. Excerpts from Pulitzer-Prize winning author Wilkerson's text were shared during last year's R.E.A.D., along with Ibram X. Kendi's How to Be an Antiracist and Octavia E. Butler's Parable of the Sower. *RSVP Required for this event by Monday, October 18th at 12pm	Carlton Union Building, 230 Stetson Room
2:00 – 3:30 P.M.  *Cultural Credit Opportunity	Workshop Block 1	See list of workshops below
4:00 – 5:15 P.M.  *Cultural Credit Opportunity	Workshop Block 2	See list of workshops below
6:00 – 7:00 P.M.  *Cultural Credit Opportunity 	Keynote Address: Isabel Wilkerson  Christopher Roellke, Savannah-Jane Griffin, Joanne Harris-Duff, Isabel Wilkerson  Isabel Wilkerson, winner of the Pulitzer Prize and the National Humanities Medal, and author of the critically acclaimed, New York Times bestsellers The Warmth of Other Suns, and Caste: The Origins of Our Discontents, will be our 2021 Values Day Keynote Speaker. Isabel will be speaking about her book, Caste: The Origins of Our Discontents and the audience will have the opportunity to ask questions following her keynote address. Email your questions for Isabel to events@stetson.edu by Friday, October 15th. To learn more about our speaker and her book, please visit: https://www.stetson.edu/other/values-day/2021keynotespeaker.php.	Virtual Link
9:30 – 10:30 P.M.  *Cultural Credit Opportunity	Uncouth Hour  Uncouth Hour is an “open-mic night” where students can tune in and watch the livestream on the Hatter Network Instagram, @hatternetwork, or come perform their poetry, prose, music, and any other creative talents live and in-person, all while enjoying the company of other creative minds. Join us for a fun event featuring the creative community of Stetson! RSVP if you would like to perform at Uncouth Hour.	Carlton Union Building, 261A Lee's Garage or join virtually on the Hatter Network Instagram

2021 Values Day Workshops

Workshop Block 1

Workshop Block	Workshop	Location
2:00 – 3:30 P.M.	Put Your Empathy to the Test  Mirant Vyas, Brianne Vash, Rebecca Hett, Leah Marisi, Lindsey Carelli, Jesse Fox Join the Religious and Spiritual Life Team and put your empathy to the test! A quick test will be taken assessing the participants' empathy levels as well as providing feedback, followed by a presentation on empathy and healthy ways to manage it. Lastly, there will be an opportunity for discussion with your peers. Join the conversation about what empathy is and learn how you, as an individual, can use your empathy in your community!	This session will be virtual. Register to receive session virtual link.
2:00 – 3:30 P.M.	Turn the Lights Off and Hide - Emotion Just Arrived  Keith Sims Emotion... a tricky characteristic of the human experience. Something so readily available for demonstration in childhood becomes a feared, and perceivably avoided, process as we continue to grow. Instead, we develop survival skills, often unbeknownst to ourselves. Skills designed for one purpose: to protect, and often conceal, our true emotional responses. Why does this happen? And, why is it relevant in present-day, most notably during the pandemic? This presentation explores the cause-and-effect nature of this internal dynamic and how experiencing true emotion, if we are unfamiliar with it and unable to effectively process it, can impact our mental health.	This session will be virtual. Register to receive session virtual link.
2:00 – 3:30 P.M.	Learning Through Polarization  Paul Croce Problems, problems.... Life is full of them. A college education enables you to get a better grip on those troubles rather than letting them swallow you. And more: college thinking can let you flip problems into opportunities. The difficulties in life and the fierce disagreements about them can be overwhelming. In college, you can pick up tools for listening and learning across those differences. Then, in your career, you can transform the cultural spears of public fighting into practical ploughshares of constructive engagement and job opportunities. Different views, conventionally triggers for fighting, can become paths to greater cultural health. Participants are encouraged to read William James essay, "On a Certain Blindness" prior to the session.	This session will be virtual. Register to receive session virtual link.
2:00 – 3:30 P.M.	Cultivating Self-Compassion  Danielle Lindner Self-compassion involves treating ourselves with the same kindness and care we would show a friend, especially in hard times. This workshop will introduce attendees to the practice of self-compassion and provide resources to help attendees foster greater self-compassion in their daily lives.	This session will be virtual. Register to receive session virtual link.

2:00 – 3:30 P.M.	Perspective-Taking and Communication  Meg Young  This workshop will start with a video about microaggressions in the classroom. We will identify communication skills that enable intercultural communication, including practical listening skills. We will interact respectfully and appropriately in various cultural contexts and demonstrate openness to new perspectives and diverse others. We will evaluate diverse perspectives, and navigate the ambiguity and complexity that comes with multiple perspectives and reassess our personal view when appropriate, a process that frequently requires courage and humility. The most crucial aspect will be learning to listen while withholding judgment about the new or unfamiliar.	Lynn Business Center 317
2:00 – 3:30 P.M.	Empathy and Respect for the Environment  Christie Miller   Volusia County Environmental Volunteer Coordinator  In this workshop, participants will learn to generate empathy toward the environment by learning about the plight of various aspects of the environment, including water quantity and quality, habitat loss, wildlife endangerment, plastics, and more. Participants will learn how to respect the environment through specific actions that can be taken immediately to contribute to the resolution of these environmental issues. Participants will engage in small group conversations and make a commitment to “Do One Thing”.	Lynn Business Center 319
2:00 – 3:30 P.M.	“#choosingempathy, #choosingequity: Building a Program to Lift Unseen Burdens”  David Johnson, Leigh Ann Dunning, Megan O’Neill, Emery McClenny  Although DEI issues concern all of us, we at the Writing Center and in the Writing Program see a side most folks don’t: how BIPOC students negotiate their identities in writing and how they respond to faculty comments on their writing. In this presentation on linguistic justice, we offer a range of stories about interacting with students who demonstrate the need for more equitable, aware, and empathetic writing instruction, including the transformational pedagogy of inclusion and contract-based grading.	Lynn Business Center 108
2:00 – 3:30 P.M.	Culture Not A Costume!  Aaryanna Kania, Evan Asuboah, Shadia Munoz-Najar, Wendy Viggiano  Cultures are not costumes! When does a Halloween costume turn from fun to inappropriate? In this interactive workshop, attendees will learn about cultural appropriation versus appreciation. We will accomplish this by discussing cultural experiences and traditions, and how they hold value to those who participate in them. During this workshop, we will also provide an opportunity to ask questions and hear the perspectives of those within our Stetson community. Participants will come to gain a greater understanding not only of how to spot appropriation but also how to avoid it and encourage cultural appreciation.	Sage Hall 222

2:00 – 3:30 P.M.	The Power of One: Making a Difference in the World  Lorna Owens          “The Power of One”, tells the story of Lorna Owens an attorney, Registered Nurse, Midwife, International Speaker and Author and her journey to war-torn D. R. Congo, Somaliland, and Jamaica to help reduce Maternal and Infant Mortality. She believes each of us can do even at least one thing to make a difference in the world.	Sage Hall 253
2:00 – 3:30 P.M.	Healing Hard History: A Presentation by The Volusia Remembers Coalition on Confronting Volusia County’s History of Racial Terror Lynchings as a Path Towards Building Cultures of Empathy and Respect Today  Sam Houston, Daisy Grimes, Reginald Williams   Volusia Remembers Board          Building cultures of empathy and respect sometimes means telling hard truths about our history, especially this country’s history of racial injustice and oppression. Part of that history includes racial terror lynchings carried out in many parts of the country, including Florida. In this panel, the Volusia Remembers Coalition (VRC) will share the nature and purpose of its work in partnership with the Equal Justice Initiative to honor the victims of terror lynching in Volusia County. VRC members will then reflect on how confronting this hard history cultivates empathy and respect and how others might join in this vital work.	DuPont Ball Library, 25L
2:00 – 3:30 P.M.	Sexual Assault Prevention and Awareness  Shinece Carr   Director of Volusia Rape Crisis Center          As Volusia Rape Crisis Center we have a mission to provide support and empowerment to every member of our community. We promote both prevention and awareness of sexual assault. VRCC places a high level of focus on the education of healthy relationships, creating boundaries, crisis intervention, advocating, and self-care. We provide the opportunity for people to talk about the difficult things that can't be discussed anywhere else. We believe in a non-judgmental space to have the open and honest conversations needed to heal and obtain the proper resources needed. We ensure that every person feels heard and understood.	Sage Hall 256
2:00 – 3:30 P.M.	Rebuilding Communities From the Inside  Maria Pardo, Juan Guillen, Adalcio Lugo, Rebeca Herrera   Self-Help Credit Union          Community development is an old notion built on a culture of empathy and respect. These are among the pillars of effective community transformation. We will explore how a purpose-driven, member-owned and nonprofit financial institution and its interventions lead to building a more equitable and prosperous community, especially for those most vulnerable and underestimated in our society. We will share examples of individuals and families in underserved communities becoming empowered and active participants of equitable transformation.	Lynn Business Center 221

2:00 – 3:30 P.M	Advancing Equity and Justice: Supporting Children and Youth Experiencing Homelessness  Rajni Shankar-Brown This interactive session will explore the complex dynamics of economic inequality through intersectional lenses and illuminate the layered effects of homelessness on children and youth. The well-being of children and youth in the sunshine state is consistently ranked as one of the lowest. Pervasive inequalities, shifting demographics, and an ever-changing global economy (particularly in the midst of the COVID-19 pandemic) require us to rethink how we can address and dismantle systems of oppression in PreK-12 schools, higher education, and local communities. We must work to address social inequalities through mindful awareness and action, including equity-centered and culturally responsive practices. Families with children are among the fastest growing segment of the homeless population in the United States, and particularly in the state of Florida, with Black and Brown communities being disproportionately impacted. Growing economic inequality and racial equity issues in the U.S. require us (as individuals and communities) to reflect on our values and to collectively address issues at macro and micro levels.	Carlton Union Building, 230 Stetson Room
2:00 – 3:30 P.M.	Respecting Boundaries – A Discussion about Domestic Abuse  Bonisha Townsend-Porter, Angie Pye, Raven Jefferson   The Beacon Center This session will be an intimate round table discussion that touches on domestic violence, how to define patterns of emotional and physical abuse, recognize early signs, and break the cycle of domestic violence by defining boundaries and knowing how and where to seek help. The discussion will be led and supported by Angie Pye, Director of The Beacon Center, and Bonisha Townsend-Porter, Director of Student Development &amp; Campus Vibrancy and Board Member for The Beacon Center. Also joining us will be Raven Jefferson, CEO, and Founder of the Jream Foundation. Raven is a survivor of multiple forms of domestic abuse and has not only redefined her boundaries but has established an organization that helps others do the same. The Beacon Center is an organization purposed to serve people who suffer from domestic abuse. Survivors may go to the center for support, assistance, shelter, and resources that will allow them to redefine their boundaries.	Carlton Union Building, 261A Lee’s Garage
Workshop Block 2
Workshop Block	Workshop	Location
4:00 – 5:15 P.M.	Secrets to Surviving and Even Thriving in Challenging Times  Page Thanasiu As we all continue to navigate stressful times, this workshop will provide specific tools and strategies students can use daily to help themselves and their peers feel more mentally ready to face challenges. We can’t always change what is happening around us, but we can learn ways to cope with the difficulties that leave us feeling more positive about the future.	This session will be virtual. Register to receive session virtual link.

4:00 – 5:15 P.M.	Religion and Ritual in Fraternities and Sororities  Renee Dubois, Lindsey Carelli  Looking back through the history of social fraternities and sororities, this workshop will examine the role Christianity played in the foundation, rituals, and traditions of these organizations. Through brief presentations, small group discussion, and share-back, we will explore the questions: How might this effect non-Christian members today? How do we maintain our traditions while recognizing the diverse nature of our campus communities?	This session will be virtual. Register to receive session virtual link.
4:00 – 5:15 P.M.	Can We Talk—But First, Can We Listen?... Across Polarized Divides  Paul Croce  The problems in our world are bad enough. Add that many of those on task to address them spend more time fighting with each other than addressing the problems. We take on one of the biggest polarized and gridlocked issues of our time, the antagonism of Israelis and Palestinians. Learn how each side has arrived at its current entrenched positions, and we will explore the potentials for increased understanding—not for a political solution but for seeding the future with potentials to improve on the current bleak tensions. First, we’ll listen to the narratives of each. Then let’s talk.	This session will be virtual. Register to receive session virtual link.
4:00 – 5:15 P.M.	JEDI Jigsaw  Yasas Vithanage, Manal Ammagui, Jackson Dennis, Jessica Day, Norm Cole  Words are powerful. They have the power to hurt and to heal. This event is an opportunity to use words to empower yourself, learn about yourself and the community, and find community. Join Residential Living and Learning to stand against hate and discrimination, and stand for equity and justice. Learning how to live as a Hatter who finds Serenity in their Identity.	Stetson Green
4:00 – 5:15 P.M	Leading for a Culture of Consent  Veronica Fuentes, Sara Smith, Joseph Parr  Join the Peer Advisory Council for Title IX and work with our educated staff and peers as we engage in discussions of consent, empowerment, and sexual behaviors. Through this workshop you will have the opportunity to learn how to incorporate these techniques and dialogues into your everyday lives.	Sage Hall 253
4:00 – 5:15 P.M	Can Title IX Promote Empathy and Respect at Stetson?  Lyda Kiser  What is your reaction when you hear the phrase "Title IX?" Do you shudder or groan? Are you stressed? This session will help you see Title IX in a more positive way, as a mechanism to promote empathy and respect for others. We will use a brief presentation with lots of discussion and reflection so you leave with new ideas and maybe even a plan!	Sage Hall 257
4:00 – 5:15 P.M	Barnaga - A Simulation Game  Pauls Hentz, Alexa McDonough, Katie Kraft, Juliet Tonkin  Join us for an interactive simulation game! We can't share too many details (to do this would ruin the activity), but we will be practicing our nonverbal communication. This will be a highly engaging session and will require full audience participation. We will end with an interactive discussion about the activity and what we learned and observed.	Sage Hall 222

4:00 – 5:15 P.M.	Human Rights: Then and Now  Rajni Shankar-Brown, Christa Assi  Stetson student Christa Assi and Dr. Rajni Shankar-Brown will co-facilitate this interactive session on human rights. Historical and current day global perspectives on human rights will be discussed. Participants will have an opportunity to explore individual and collective values in connection to human rights, as well as current human rights violations. International, national, state, and local human rights movements will be highlighted, including the National Coalition for the Homeless' "Bring America Home Now!" campaign, Girls Not Brides, and Impact Lebanon. Participants will also learn about how to become involved in local projects and human rights advocacy resources will be shared.	Carlton Union Building, 230 Stetson Room
4:00 – 5:15 P.M.	Pollinators, Native Plants, and Being a Good Neighbor to the River  Jason Evans, Emily Niederman, Megan Martin, Andrew Joesoef, Janardan Mainali  The Sandra Stetson Aquatic Center is a relatively new satellite campus, located about 6 miles west of Stetson's main campus on the shores of Lake Beresford. The site contains beautiful native plant gardens, stunning lake views, and opportunities for water-based recreation. This Values Day workshop will provide the Stetson community with a unique opportunity to participate in engaged learning about the diverse life forms that make their home at Lake Beresford, as well as engage in future-oriented visioning about how to make the Aquatic Center more accessible, inclusive, and impactful for our campus and neighborhood communities. The workshop will be held at the Aquatic Center, which is located several miles away from the main campus (2636 Alhambra Ave.) and will likely require car-based travel for most participants. The workshop will also involve some walking through grass and gravel pathways.	Sandra Stetson Aquatic Center (2636 Alhambra Ave., Deland 32720)

Cultural Credit Opportunities

Students can receive up to six cultural credits by attending any of the nine events listed below on Values Day. In order for students to receive cultural credit for the below events, they must complete the Values Day Cultural Credit Form for each event they participated in by Monday, October 25th at 11:59 p.m.

Gillespie Museum	Workshop Block 1
Hand Art Center Exhibits	Workshop Block 2
Empathy and Art at the Library	Values Day Key Note Address – Isabel Wilkerson
Global Citizenship Fair	Uncouth Hour
2021-2022 Stetson R.E.A.D. Launch

Thank You!

While Values Day is marketed as a one-day event, it is a cornerstone program for our institution that involves the coordination of a national speaker, a Common Read, dozens of workshops led by members across our community, a Global Citizenship Fair with many community partners, and participation from thousands of students, faculty, staff, and partners in our community. We wish to thank the Values Day Planning Team, the Center for Community Engagement, the Office of Religious and Spiritual Life, the Office of Diversity and Inclusion, WORLD: International Learning, the Office of University Marketing, the Office of University Events, Dining Services, Print Shop, Facilities, the Workshop Presenters, and our Community Partners for their leadership in planning and executing the events on Values Day.